

Use a Designated Driver

Use a Designated Driver If you, or someone you know, is planning on celebrating the holidays by drinking alcoholic beverages, using a designated driver is a smart move. If you are hosting a holiday party, you might consider having a safe holiday party to protect your guests.

To raise the awareness of the problem of drinking and driving during the holiday, Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD) have established a Tie One on for Safety ribbon program to encourage the public to become actively involved in the fight against drunk driving.

Have Fun!

The holidays are a time to have fun, and that can be accomplished without alcohol. There are many ways to have fun without drinking and have a safe and sober holiday.

Have a safe and happy holiday!
